PROFILE

I am Jeremiah Austine, a dedicated full-stack and app developer with expertise in React, Next.js, Node.js, and Flutter. I build fast, responsive, and user-friendly web and mobile applications with seamless backend integration and scalability. With strong attention to detail and a solid grasp of modern practices, I transform ideas into clean, maintainable code. My experience spans projects like Cineverse (movie discovery website), TeamCore (team collaboration tool), and Binwise (waste control) each showcasing my focus on performance and user experience. Passionate about learning and innovation, I thrive in dynamic, collaborative environments that challenge me to create impactful digital solutions.

Professional Experience

2023 Cineverse
- Design and develop a sleek movie discovery app that enhances user experience and streamlines browsing, watchlists, and playback. Lead and optimize the app's UI/UX, ensuring seamless integration of movie data, search, and personalized recommendations.

2023 BinWise
- Design and implement a waste-management app that simplifies pickup scheduling, route tracking, and reporting. Optimize admin tools and user flows to improve operational efficiency and service reliability.

2024 ZortCloud
- Deliver a modern cloud platform with intuitive dashboards and scalable modules. Streamline operations through tools designed to elevate business efficiency and growth.

2024 Gemf Pools Ven.
- Showcase pool design, construction, and maintenance with a clean, interactive website. Smooth animations and visuals highlight craftsmanship while simplifying exploration and booking.
